

12

The horticultural developments under plastic of the oriental littoral from Granada

IFAPA studies the horticultural low plastic sector in the oriental littoral from Granada, after realizing a poll in the year 2005 to 151 horticulturists of the zone, showing some of the results obtained in this article.

22

Fertirrigation of Epipremnum pinnatum "Aureum" using a new fertilizer NPK

Study of the efficiency of a complex fertilizer who contains the inhibitor of nitrificación Dimetil Pirazol Phosphate (DMPP) for fertirrigación of Epipremnum pinnatum "Aureum" in container.

26

Measures for the control of the moth of the tomato "Tuta Absoluta"

The moth of the tomato or "Absolute Tuta" is a new plague of the tomato in Spain, and that appeared in the Region of Murcia at the beginning of the autumn of the year 2007.

30

Biological control of flies white spirals in the Canaries

The "white flies" are a small insects belonging to the family Aleyrodidae. This group includes some of the major pests of horticultural crops and ornamental species such as known as "the whitefly of greenhouses" Trialeurodes vaporariorum (Westwood) or "the whitefly of snuff" Bemisia tabaci (Gennadius).

32

The Third Symposium European Whitefly (EWS3)

There are nearly 1.200 species of white flies (Homoptera: Aleyrodidae) but few that affect agricultural production in the world.

38

Seedbeds El Porteño Sea Nursery (Staff) for a horticulture of station

Seedbeds El Porteño is a family enterprise that from 1993 is employed at the production of lettuce, cauliflower, cabbage, tomato and pepper between (among) others.

40

Interview to Jose Abellán Gómez

44

Guide of Fruits and Vegetables

50

IFAVA's summit in Paris

Representation of the 5 continents with the participation of over 400 delegates from 30 countries.

56

The IVth range to the search of the flavor

International seminar to promote the participation of the technical personnel of the companies of fruit and vegetables, on the advances and trends in the postcompilation of fruits and vegetables.

61

X Anniversary of AEFA's foundation

The 28 affiliates celebrated a decade of dedication to agriculture, since the field of nutritional and fitofortifiers.

67

Directory